

hEART 2025 Conference
10th June – 12th June 2025

1st Call for Papers

The Technical University of Munich (TUM) is excited to host the 13th Symposium of the European Association for Research in Transportation (hEART 2025) from June 10th to June 12th, 2025, in Munich. We look forward to welcoming researchers and experts engaging discussions and valuable networking.

Relevant topics include:

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| Activity-based modelling                       | Pricing and capacity optimization          |
| Artificial Intelligence and Big data analytics | Shared mobility                            |
| Automated and connected driving                | Traffic flow theory                        |
| Cycling and walking behaviour and design       | Traffic, network, and mobility management  |
| Discrete choice modelling                      | Transport economics and policy             |
| Environmental impacts on transport             | Transport equity and justice               |
| Multi-modal transport                          | Transport network modelling                |
| Operations research applications               | Urban freight transport and city logistics |

Submission guidelines

Short papers of 2.000-3.000 words with an abstract of max. 150 words are invited for submission. Submissions will be reviewed by members of the scientific committee. The short papers should clearly state the research goals, elaborate methods and discuss the results in order to allow the scientific committee to assess their quality. Ongoing research is not preferred as we are expecting clear indication of the conclusions from the research. Only original contributions are considered for presentation at the conference. A maximum of one presentation is allowed per person registered for the conference.

Important dates

- |                            |                    |
|----------------------------|--------------------|
| Short paper submission     | 31st December 2024 |
| Notification of acceptance | 4th March 2025     |

Submission instructions

Submissions are to be written in English and should be submitted electronically using the EasyChair portal (that will soon be available on the web site). All submissions must be relevant to the conference topics. Authors will be asked to select the themes from the topic list that suit best to their submission. Please upload your short paper as a PDF file and name it as follows: "last name_first name_hEART2025".

Contact: info@heart2025.eu – heart2025.eu